Attached is a copy of the letter from Ms. Isabel S. Mariño, OIC-University Librarian of Silliman University informing the Office of the Schools Division Superintendent of its 83rd National Book Week Celebration on November 24-30, 2017.

Their theme this year is "Libraries Take Action: Providing Access and Opportunity for all". Furthermore, they will be launching Silliman University Library Reach Out (SULiBRO) program, a book donation event in partnership with Ann Arbor, Michigan.

It is strongly encouraged that the school heads and the PSDS concerned shall coordinate with Silliman University through the telephone number given in the letter about the schedule of the activity. (November 27 for San Antonio Elementary School and November 28 for Gregorio Elmaga Memorial High School).

For cooperation.

Schools Division Superintendent
Department of Education – Negros Oriental Division

Dear. Mr. Jimenez:

Greetings!

The Silliman University Library will celebrate the 83rd National Book Week on November 24 – 30, 2017. In line with this year's theme " Libraries Take Action: Providing Access and Opportunity for all", will be the launching of SULIBRO (Silliman University Library Reach Out) in San Antonio Elementary School, Bolo-Boloc Elementary School in Sibulan on November 27 and in Gregorio Elmaga Memorial High School on November 28, 2017, a program that aims to promote life-long learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

This book donation event is in partnership with Ann Arbor, Michigan will be coupled with various activities prepared by our librarians and staff whose deep sense of social responsibilities is on fire.

In view of this, we would like to request for your favorable endorsement for the said initiative. Your favorable response will help promote literacy in our community. For more details you may contact 422-6002 local 516.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,

ISABEL S. MARIÑO
