Education Program Supervisor
Division of Negros Oriental

Dear Ma'am:

Greetings!

We hope this letter finds you well. My name Ian Caesar Gariando, event manager of Energy Development Corporation's (EDC) Positive Energy Battle of the Brains Quiz Bee. I represent DRINK, a communications agency base in Manila and the event partner of EDC for this activity.

Battle of the Brains (BOTB) is an inter-high school quiz bee that focuses on environmental topics such as climate change, sustainability, and renewable energy, all on global, national, and local levels. It aims to educate and empower the youth of Negros, and have them be an active part of the discourse and action regarding renewable energy in the regions.

This is the second year that the competition will be taking place. Last year's event was a great success, with colleges from all around the region competing. This year, our contestants will be coming from high school across the Negros Island Region (NIR).

BATTLE OF THE BRAINS

Renewable Energy for a Brighter Future

Five key cities in the region have been identified to host the Semi-finals for this year, namely Bacolod, Bago, Kabankalan, Bais, and Dumaguete. In each location, senior high schools from the cities and nearby municipalities will compete to qualify in the Finals round to be held in Dumaguete City.

This is to confirm that Mabinay Science High School is joining Battle of the Brains High School Edition.

Should you have any concerns, kindly coordinate them to us by replying to this letter or call/text +639778408136 (Globe).

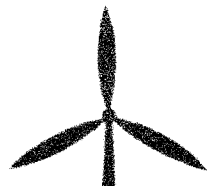

Thank you for your consideration and we hope for your favorable response.

Respectfully,
